"Calamity" Pair Finally Get To Altar And Say "I Do"

Fort Worth's "calamity couple" finally made it to the altar.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Youngblood and John B. Dodson Jr. originally was set for last Monday night at Polytechnic Christian Church One collapse and one car crash later, the ceremony was read at 12:30 p. m. Saturday.

The collapse of the bride occurred as she alighted at the church door Monday night, ill with a gastric infection. The car crash came shortly before noon Saturday as Dodson was to meet his still-shaky bride and be married at noon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Cornelia Youngblood, 2565 E. Vickery.

The bride's brother, Rev. T. J. Youngblood Jr., read the ceremony that was delayed a half hour while the bridegroom counted his bruises and took stock of damage to the car loaded with wedding presents and ready to leave for a honeymoon to South Texas.

The bride wore the same ballerina length white lace gown and matching picture hat that she had on at the time of her collapse. She even carried the same orchid, kept fresh in a refrigerator since last Monday.

As soon as the ceremony was over, she began to cry—because she was happy that they finally were married, because she still felt a little weak from her illness, and because the bridegroom might have been hurt more seriously in the crash at Ave. K. and Binkley.

The car, "torn up considerably," according to Dodson, will make no honeymoon trip. The couple will go by train. The bride's mother will have the job of sorting out wedding presents that were smashed in the accident.

The young couple plan to live in San Marcos, where he is a student at Southwestern Texas State Teachers College. He plans to be an insurance salesman, and considering all that has happened to him in the past few days he thinks it's a good profession.

Attending the young couple were Miss Betty Bogan of Dallas and William A. Burdett of Laredo, who plan to be married in July.

The bridegroom's parting remark to Burdett was:

"You'd better get married right now while you have the chance. You never can tell what's going to happen."

Burlington Post Master Sends Check To "Blue Baby" Fund

COMPROMISE REACHED ON MOVING REA LINES

A compromise has been reached in the controversy involving right of way clearance on the farm to market road from Rockdale to Tracy.

The Bartlett Rural Electrification, opreating power lines in the area covered by the road, had refused to move lines to allow for the new right of way.

The Commissioners Court employed council and a commision was set up to ahbitrate the question as a possible alternative to suit. Emory B. Camp represented the county and Carlton Smith of Waco, general attorney for the Co-Ops in this area, appeared for the Bartlett group.

Texas Power & Light Company lines on the right of way were moved immediately upon request of the court.

The conference ended in agreement that the Bartlett REA will move its lines and pay half the cost. The other half the cost will be born by business men in Rockdale, financed through the Young Mens Business League there.

Contract had been let on the road for months and construction was nearing completion on the bridge across San Gabriel River.

Milam county has not yet obtained right of way on Highway 77 from Burlington north to the Falls county line. The Commissioners Court has repeatedly asked condemnation proceedings from the office of the County Attorney, but settlement is being sought by negotiation. One property owner is holding up completion of the way.

Two other major highway deals are pending: Highway 36 from Cameron to Bell county line through Buckholts. The other right of way on Farm to Market Road from Ad Hall to Tracy.

Contract may soon be let on the road from Thorndale to San Gabriel. This road has been authorized by the Texas Highway Commission. The road will be extended north to intersect with Highway 36 and 190 at Pettibone.

NEW SWITCHBOARD ADS 100 TELEPHONES HERE

Improved service will be provided for telephone users in Cameron as a result of the recent addition of a new local switchboard position and 100 lines, according to C. L. Carson, local manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Gross expenditure for the addition was $10,000, Carson said.

The new position will increase the capacity of the Cameron central office by about 100 telephones, the manager said, and will allow an additional operator to sit at the board and handle calls during busy periods of the day. At the present time there are seven local and four long distance positions in the Cameron central office.

Cameron has had a rapid telephone growth in the last several years, the manager pointed out. Two new switchboard positions were added at the central office here early last year. The number of Telephones in the city has grown by leaps and bounds. When the war ended, there were 882 telephones in use here. At the beginning of last year, the total had leaped to 1,249. Now, there are more than 1,430 telephones in service here, reperesenting an increase of 62 per cent since the war ended, Carson said.

Denson Property Is Sold for $15,250 To Hilliard Thomas

The residence property of W. B. Denson and Mrs. Alma Denson, in the country club addition to the city, was sold to Hilliard Thomas for $15,250.00 early Saturday.

Will Vaughan, Trustee, received bids and permitted the bidders to increase their offers if they desired. Only two bidders were present, Mr. Thomas and J. B .White. The opening bids were: White $13,500 and Thomas $8,500. The bidding reached the figure at which Mr. Thomas bought the property.

Mrs. Alma Denson and son, Dicky have returned to their home in Fort Worth after spending several days in Cameron visiting friends.

THURSDAY IS TRASH HAULING DAY HERE

Cameron's city wide clean up for Polio prevention will close Thursday when business houses suspend operations for a half day beginning at noon.

Volunteer workers, trucks and tools will be moved from the court house lawn shortly after noon to the infected areas and to correct conditions where noted by the investigators.

No information was at hand to indicate how much enthusiasm was behind the clean up. The city has no Polio. People generally are less in-

SCHUMACHER BUILDING BEING USED FOR OATS

The large tile building located on the tracks of the Santa Fe Railroad in Cameron and once used by the Schumacher Company, was in bad condition here Monday.

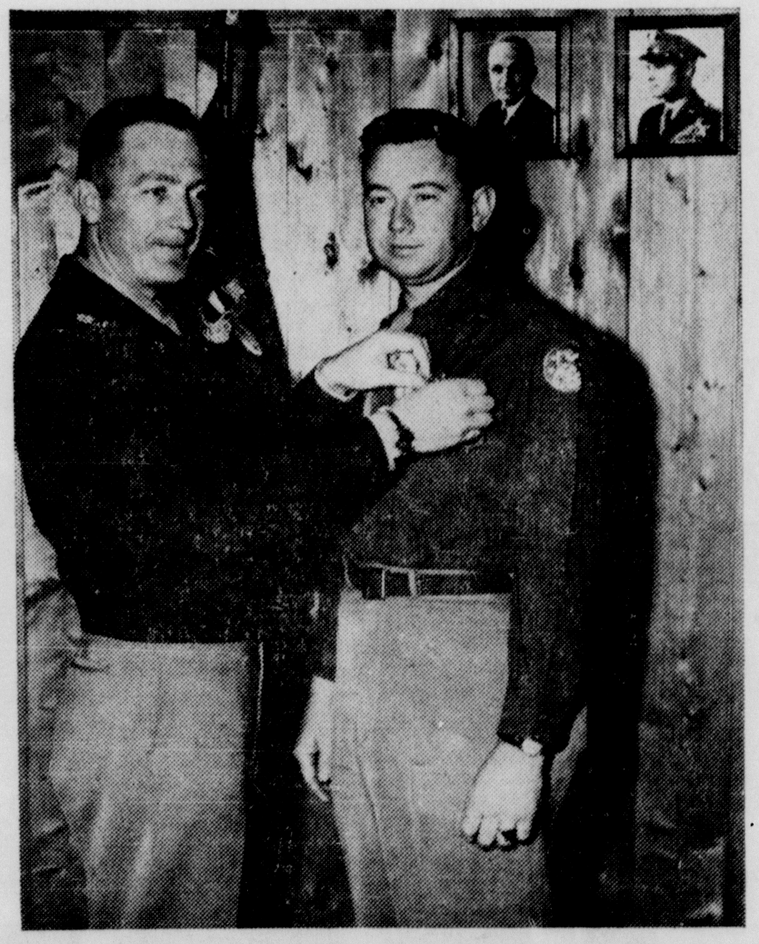
Early Sunday evening the east end wall of the building collapsed and spilled an undetermined number of bushels of oats into a ditch along the rails.

Workers were busy Monday reclaiming the grain. There was no immediate estimate on the loss.

After the end wall collapsed the roof began to sag and steps were taken to make supports for the big expanse. The building is a large one. During recent years it was used by the Bredt & Haley Produce Company and later the Bredt Produce Company for feed storage from the nearby mill.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stafford live nearby. Mr. Stafford said the crash sounded like two trains had crashed. Close watch was being kept on the structure and all precatutions were being taken. The building has been used for a warehouse for some time and curently had been made into a storage place for grains.

The Schumacher Company, wholesale grocers, now have their headquarters for this area in Bryan.



NAGOYA, JAPAN—Captain Benjamin A. L. Click, Jr., Fifth Air Force, is shown receiving senior pilot's wings from Major Floyd B. Whitlow, commanding officer, Headquarters Squadron, Fifth Air Force in Nagoya, Japan.

Senior pilot's wings represent a minimum of seven years of service and completion of 2,000 hours in the air. Captain Click, accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Mary Lou Click, will leave Japan in the near future and return to the United States for reassignment. Mrs. Click is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Folschinsky of Burlington.

"Lawton Story" Is Canceled At Local Theatre; New Billing

"The Lawton Story," widely publicised screen version of the story of Christ as staged each year at Lawton, Oklahoma, has been canceled from the June program at Cameron Theatre. It will get a new billing.

The screen bill for Thursday and Friday is "My Dream Is Yours," big time musical comedy with Jack Carson, Doris Day and Lee Bowman.

CROP SHORT EXPECTED VOLUME IN THIS AREA

Prices of green shippers were hiked yesterday by the Foster Produce Company, now moving the tomato crop in this area up to capacity of his sheds.

Mr. Foster said Wednesday morning that he is paying 3 and one half cents for No. 1 greens and 1 and a half cents for No. 2 greens. Some of the sheds have stopped buying No. 2 greens.

Ripe tomatoes were due to decline in price. Foster paid 5c per pound Tuesday but said early Wednesday the price would drop, maybe to $3.50 per hundred. Ripe tomatoes are beginning to flood the market.

In the meantime farmers were bearing out what had been the estimate of the crop earlier. True there are some fields with excellent crops but on the whole the volume of marketable tomatoes will be far below expectations. Some fields are not yielding average.

If rains come within a week the tomato crop may react and production increase. If dry weather continues the sun will blast this highly perishable crop.

Mr. Foster said that the tomato market over the country was showing some signs of vigor. There has been a slight increase in the demand for green tomatoes as indicated by the hike in price.

If buyers generally knew how short is the crop prices would go up with demand.

Meanwhile the crop, while not written off as a failure, was pretty disappointing according to some of the planters.

Mr. Foster said he had bought and shipped three cars of tomatoes Tuesday.

Baby Linda's Bank Account Grows; Good People Shower Cash For Heart Operation

Little Linda Sweaks' bank account was growing again Monday as week end contributions swelled the fund to almost $700 by 10 a. m.

There will be more and the names of the good people who want the little "Blue Baby" to have a chance to live, will be published from day to day.

It is one of the most stimulating things this newspaper has ever experienced and quite the most heartening thing many here have known, this response to save the life of a Baby. Such a need has no comparable appeal to humankind.

SPLAWN FAMILY ROUTED BY FLAMES EARLY TODAY

Three night fires took a heavy toll Wednesday, one a residence at Splawn, one a pasture fire and the other an automobile.

At 1 a. m. Wednesday the A. J. Reynolds family at Splawn were routed from their home when their twelve year old daughter was awakened by smoke and roused the occupants of the house.

The fire, according to information, started in the bed room of the daughter. There was no known cause for the fire. The members of the family barely had time to get out of the house. They saved no clothing or furniture and the loss was complete, a staggering blow to the family.

Mr. Reynolds managed to save a tractor which was driven out of its nearby place. The family has no clothing. Early Wednesday Will Vaughan sent a check to The Herald for $5.00 to be given the family. Friends here and in the Splawn community will want to help and they can leave money at this newspaper or send direct to the family. Mr. Reynolds lost a leg some years ago but despite his handicaps is a good farmer. He lives on the Rush A. Thomas plantation at Splawn.

A pasture fire on the Frank Sherrill farm 6 miles north of Cameron threatened the home and other buildings. Cameron's volunteer firemen responded, also went to the Reynolds home. The pasture fire occured around 9 p. m.

At 2 a. m. Wednesday a Chevrolet car was destroyed by fire on Highway 77 near the Municipal Airport.

Judge Mack Rogers of Huntsville, on the bench at Caldwell Tuesday in the absence of Judge Tate, ordered a change of venue. It was said here the case will come up for trial in July.

Henderson, Baron and Davis of Bryan, are counsel for Smyth. It was understood here a plea of insanity might be made when the case goes to trial.

The Henry Siebmans Are On Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Siebman are on a vacation trip to Washington and other places of interest.

They expect to return in about 10 days. Their daughter, Marsha Dell is staying with Mr. Siebman's mother in Greenville.

GAUSE MAN HELPS CHILD

Gene Walker of Gause was in Cameron early Saturday and came to The Herald and gave $5.00 to the fund for Little Linda Sweaks and expressed the hope that she will survive the operation and come back to her home. "Giving to things like this cannot be measured in money. After all it helps those who give more than anyone," was the way he expressed it.

THURSDAY JUNE 9 SET BY MAYOR GRIFFITH

Mayor Roy Griffith has proclaimed Health Day for Cameron.

In a proclamation the Mayor has set Thursday, June 9 as the day on which business may close and the people join in the cleanup drive.

On this date the cleanup campaign will be climaxed with five and a half hour spraying and disinfecting. This phase of the campaign will follow the trash collection and will end the week long effort to prevent polio and other diseases.

Here is Mayor Griffith's proclamation:

"WHEREAS we recognize that health is the most priceless posession of every individual and desiring to encourage the present effort of many public spirited citizens of our town, who, with interest centered in the general welfare and in the banishment of disease or threat thereof, are waging a campaign to place our home surroundings in order, and having set a date for co-operative work to clean up and remove all probable sources of infection and contagion from our midst;

"THEREFORE, I, Roy Griffith, Mayor of the City of Cameron, do hereby proclaim Thursday, June 9th as health day for and in the City of Cameron, and do hereby urge that all places of business be closed during the hours from 1 to 6 o'clock P. M. and that every person in our City spend these five hours of said day in disinfecting, cleaning up, and beautifying home and business premises. A great concerted effort is being sought for this date, and I earnestly request that each and every person in Cameron take an active part in this campaign.

ROY GRIFFITH, Mayor.

Rockdale Is Helping "Blue Baby" Linda; Rockdale Reporter Telephones It will Help

The good people of Rockdale will do all they can to help Little Linda, the "Blue Baby," get to a Dallas hospital.

The Rockdale Reporter telephoned to Claude Sweaks late Wednesday to say that it would do everything possible to bring this appeal to the people there.

Mr. Sweaks told the Reporter that the story published by the Daily Midget was an accurate statement of the situation as to their need.

The Sweaks were deeply grateful to the Rockdale newspaper for its interest in Little Linda's future.

It appeared certain that the money will be raised. Up to 9:30 a. m. $317.57 had been turned in at The Herald and $15 had been given direct to Mr. Sweaks at Williams, The Plumber. The grand total was $332.-57.

GI Night Class At Vocation School Gives Linda $11.75

The night class at the GI Vocational School sent in $11.75 for Little Linda, the "Blue Baby," early Thursday.

The money was given in at The Herald by Charlie Matula and he expressed hope that Little Linda will get enough money so her parents can take her to a hospital in Dallas for a heart operation.

Few among the people are as sympathetic as war veterans for they know better than anyone because of their experiences, how human need appeals.

Little Linda, if she lives, will someday thank each one of these veterans.

OFFICERS WORRIED AS BOYS NEED DISCIPLIN

Peace officers here are worried over juvenile crime development.

They say the city has a budding gangster regime among the teenage boys. Whether it is serious or just dreamed up by a few adults who are alarmed, remains to be seen.

One reputed gang is said to have written a letter to a local resident stating they intended robbing her plum orchard. This threat they carried out.

Rumors that other threats had been made both as to plum thefts and bodily harm, were not proven to be facts.

The brutal beating of a freshman student in an alley in the downtown section, was attributed to school students who may be carrying the hazing racket too far. So far no charges have been filed.

Miss Vera Fisher, County Treasurer and father, W. C. Fisher visited Mr. Fisher's sister, Mrs. Ed Black at Hanover Monday evening.

Sanitarian Says Hog Pens Must Go; Pleads For Co-Operation Here

D. S. Wimberly, sanitarian with the Milam County Health Unit, has requested this newspaper to say that hog pens, cow lots, chicken lots and dog lots, must not be left in present condition, if they are a menace to health.

If the owners of these places will take immediate steps to put them in sanitary condition, it will not be necessary to file charges. Health authorities are going ahead on the basis of co-operation. This is the best way to clean up.

Mr. Wimberly does not wish to resort to filing cases and does not think it necessary, if all will co-operate.

Of course, it is a violtaion of the city sanitary code, for hogs and cattle to be raised in the city. People who have hog pens should be careful to comply with every request for sanitation.

August Boecker of Ben Arnold made a business trip to Cameron Monday.

Raymond L. Robinson, minister of music and education, at First Baptist Church, at Oakdale, La., directed the choir and musical program, at First Baptist Church here the past Sunday.

HEAVYWEIGHT FIGHTER HAS OIL INTERESTS

Billy Conn, an all time great in the heavyweight division of the American ring and who came near being champion of the world in his first fight with Joe Louis, was in Cameron to-day.

Conn, in company with Oklahoma City friends, came to Cameron to look after oil leases and in particular a well being drilled on their acreage in the Tracy field.

The party arrived in Cameron Sunday. With the heavyweight fighter is Robert Jordan and Dan Dunlap of Oklahoma City; P. S. Grozenski, geologist of Fort Worth and Curtis McBroom, attorney of Fort Worth.

Conn whose ring career rivals that of Bob Fitzsimmons, except that he never held the title, fought Joe Louis to a standstill in their first contest before the war. Many fans will always believe Conn should have had the decision.

In his return match as challenger, Conn was knocked out. Joe Louis never failed to knock out his man in a return engagement. He almost lost his crown to Jersey Joe Wolcott and then knocked out the challenger in the second fight last fall.

Since Joe Louis retired from the ring, many think Conn is the logical contender along with Wolcott and others. Conn would not disclose his plans, if any, about fighting.

The party left the city early Monday for the field and had not returned up to noon. They are registered at the Cameron Hotel.

Cann, a friendly, fine fellow, with everything the Irish have, collected a large following Sunday afternoon as he walked about the court house square. Boys crowded about him. He gave autographs and spent sometime at the Star Lite Club where he was admired by many who followed his ring career.

The party was due to leave late Monday for Oklahoma City.

Billy Conn has invested in oil leases and one of them is in the Tracy Field. The well, a deep test, is definitely classified as a prospective producer and it was understood some decision was being made about bringing in the well.

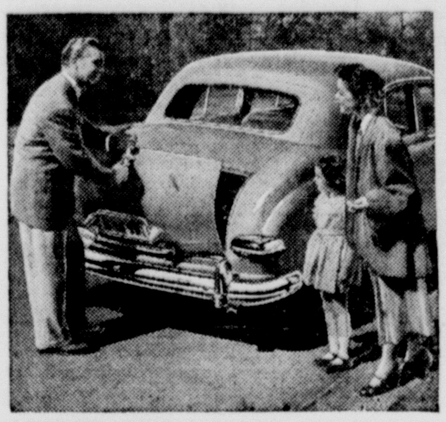
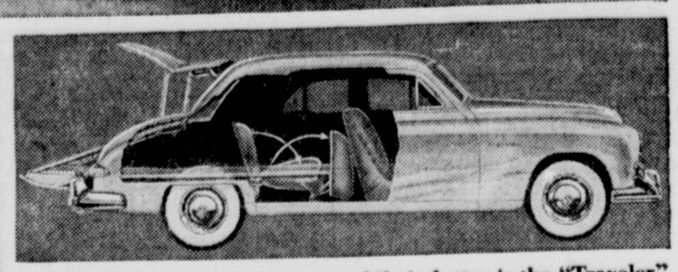
New K-F "Traveler" Is Two Cars In One





SOMETHING NEW in the automobile industry is the "Traveler," a lower-priced '49 multi-purpose sedan being introduced by Kaiser-Frazer dealers. To all appearances it is a conventional four-door model. But the rear seat cushions fold away and the entire back opens to provide access to more than 130 cubic feet of cargo space. When not in use as a carry-all, the "Traveler" is a deluxe, six-passenger family sedan. The cutaway-view shows how the seat cushions and hinged rear panels function.

Gainesville Circus Is Top Ranking Three Ring Show For Scouts

Gainesville Community Circus, "the only show of its kind in the world" is coming to the Bear Club Rodeo Stadium, Waco. Arrangements have been made by the Heart O' Texas Council, Boy Scouts of America, which is sponsoring the appearance of the big amusement enterprise in this city, for a performance to be given on June 17 and June 18 at 8:00 p. m.

Gainesville Community Circus is a complete three-ring exhibition of arenic artists, including acrobats, aerialists, tight wire performer, trained horses, ponies, dogs and monkeys and two score clowns, but it is presented entirely by citizens of Gainesville, Texas, who in every-day life are lawyers, doctors, business men, clerks, housewives, soda dispensers, school teachers, delivery boys and students.

The circus has won renown for the entertainment quality of its two-hour performance during which 100 feature acts are presented, and has been filmed 12 times for motion picture shorts, newsreels and television, and has been featured on several coast-to-coast network radio porgrams. Likewise, it has been the subject of feature articles in Saturday Evening Post, American Magazine, Readers Digest, Coronet, Magazine Digest, Readers Scope, Popular Mechanics, Popular Science and scores of others.

Despite the fact that it is a non-professional show, it is nevertheless, the third largest circus in America in number of performers participating in the program, and it is likewise the third oldest circus in this country; having been established in 1930.

Rains Blot Out Young Crops On The South Plains

Stormy weather of the sort which has wiped out thousands of acres of newly planted cotton in the South Plains of Texas, struck again Tuesday night.

As rains fell over a wide area, W. N. Williamson, district extension agent at Lubbock, estimated that 200,000 acres of cotton had been ruined in the past few days by rains, hail, wind and sand on the South Plains.

He said most of the damage had been done in the last four days.

There was a heavy shower at Tyler. Lightning struck the corner of a plumbing shop there, but damage was small.

Santos Mendosa is ill and a patient at Newton Memorial Hospital.

And in the Far West Texas city of Pecos a meandering flood had invaded another section of the city, inundated two tourist courts, a trailer camp, one substantial home, and a score of shacks occupied by Latin Americans.

All were in the east part of the city and all within a few hundred yards of the Pecos River.

The latest weather report came after hailstorms and four inch rains —striking Monday night and early Tuesday outside the Plains—had left thousands of other acres of West Texas cotton land ruined and damaged sweet corn near Devine in South Texas.

One man was almost drowned at Big Spring as high water swept across Highway 80. Young cotton was beaten into the ground in the Fairview, Coahoma, and Big Spring area.

Kaiser-Frazer Brings Out New Utility Model For Work And Pleasure On Farm

The advent of the new lower-priced Kaiser Traveler marks the first time that an automobile has been created expressly to meet the transportation and light hauling needs of rural America.

To all appearances a conventional four-door sedan, the new type car was designed to give rural and suburban residents maximum usage day and night, Sundays and holidays—as a family car and as a light cargo unit.

With seats in place, the Traveler is a full sized six-passenger sedan; with the rear seat cusions folded, there is a maximum of 130 cubic feet of cartage capacity for a variety of farm loads normally handled by "pickup" trucks or trailers.

For many farm operators, ownership of one of the new utility models virtually eliminates the need for a specialized light cargo vehicle.

The Traveler delivers for $2,088, plus transportation to Maysfield Mercantile Company, local K-F dealer, and local taxes.

With a long 123 1-2 inch wheelbase, the new model is substantially below the delivery price of any full-size station wagon now on the market and is also well under the lowest price of standard K-F sedans.

The adaptability of the Traveler is achieved through two major innovations in functional design:

1. A collapsible seat arrangement which permits folding of the rear passenger cushions for conversion to cargo hauling in 10 seconds.

2. Special rear body construction embodying two easily operated hinged panels which open the entire back of the car from floor to roof, the lower panel becoming a sturdy endgate.

Maximum loading capacity with the rear passenger cushions folded and tailgate open is 130 cubic feet. Capacity is increased to 140 cubic feet with the seat cushion removed entirely, a simple operation requiring only the removal of two bolts. With the rear seat in conventional position so that the car can carry six passengers, there still remains useable load space much greater than that of the largest trunks of standard sedans.

An important feature of the interior is the use of tough, leather-like vinyl-upholstery, washable and easier to keep clean than any other automotive trim material.

Heavy - duty front and rear springs and heavy duty shock absorbers are standard. The Traveler has the same high-compression, 100-horsepower engine that powers the Kaiser Special, and it embodies the other road-proven mechanical features of the conventional K-F sedan models.

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Laywell of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Caldwell of Palacios and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Noey of Galveston were Sunday guests in the C. N. Noey home Sunday.

NEW SLANT ON FARMING

Neighbors Hoe Crops While Veterans Move Their Turkeys Over Grasshopper Areas

The Milam County Agent turned in at the Joe Slavik farm of 127 acres, located in the heart of the Maraksville Community. A neighbor was plowing cotton with a tractor, and the County Agent asked him if he had the land leased. He said, No, I am plowing out the Slavik boys' cotton crop while they graze their 1300 half-grown turkeys on my farm to control the grasshoppers. Ten other neighbors representing some 2,000 acres of intensified farming land in the Maraksville Community, have agreed to chop out the Slavik Brothers' cotton crop to get them to range the 1300 turkeys on their farms to control the grasshoppers. Ladis and Johnnie Slavik returned from Military Service and are operating their father's farm. A third brother, Louis, is soon to be released from Military Service, and plans to join his brothers on the farm. There are six Slavik brothers in his family.

The neighbor, on whose farm the turkeys are ranged, gladly agreed to haul water and feed to a shade somewhere on the farm and also to furnish a man to spend the night with the turkeys, since they are left on the range at night to save moving them. A lantern is hung up in a tree and the turkeys gather around the light and roost on the ground.

Johnnie told the County Agent that he figured they had cut their feed bill in half since the turkeys pick up a lot of oats and other grain in the fields of the neighbors' farms. The Slaviks have about 90 acres of cotton and 35 acres of feed, in addition to some livestock and the 1300 turkeys.

J. D. MOORE,
County Agricultural Agent.

PRICE HERE REMAINS UNCHANGED SATURDAY

Foster Produce Company reported early Saturday that some 4 car loads of tomatos had been trucked out of Cameron to the markets.

The price remains unchanged here Saturday, with 3c per lb. for No. 1 greens and one and a half cents for No. 2. The Foster plant was still paying 7c per lb. for pinks, but Saturday would create a No. 2 pink that will bring less.

Mr. Foster said that the tomato market over the United States was about as low as could be with the terminal markets filled with tomatos and some shippers taking big losses.

Mr. Foster said that he had received tomatos from 4 counties here because sheds are shutting down. The local market was due to reach peak by next week.

Tomatos received so far are from a few early fields. The main crop was yet to mature. In the meantime ripe tomatos will be coming in to local stores because they mature so fast they cannot be disposed of readily.

The quality of the tomato was holding up well. The local crop may catch a reacting market and bring more. But chances were that prices would slump still further.

SAN ANGELO HARDEST HIT OF TEXAS CITIES

Polio laid its dread hand heavily on Texas Thursday.

Schools, movies, churches and swimming pools were closed at San Angelo. The city health director there has declared polio is in the epidemic stage.

San Antonio threw a helicoptor into its aerial campaign against both polio and diarrhea.

Waco and Austin reported additional polio deaths. Temple still had none to report.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer at Austin, warned that halfway measures won't stop polio— that clean-up campaigns must be thorough.

Hardest hit, apparently, was San Angelo, a thriving West Texas community of 54,600.

The city commisison at San Angelo met Thursday morning to issue its orders closing the municipal swimming pool, movie houses, school and churches for one week.

The action was taken as San Angelo polio cases reached 61, with four deaths already this year.

A C-47 from Goodfellow Air force base at San Angelo made a quick round trip to Charlotte, N. C., Wednesday night. It brought back 24 hospital cribs and five, hot pack machines so that a new polio ward could be set up at a San Angelo hospital.

A summer recreation program set to begin at San Angelo Monday was postponed. The recreation workers are needed by the health department. The statewide Civil Air Patrol cadet encampment set for Goodfellow Air Force base was cancelled.

This statement came from Dr. Cox: "We are trying to do everything possible to get the cities to do good bang-up sanitation jobs.

"It won't do much good to spray a bunch of DDT from airplanes if they don't follow up by cleaning up toilets, dump piles, garbage cans, and all breeding places of flies—and keep them cleaned."

Latest deaths included:

At Austin, Jared Smith, 5, who died of the bulbar type of polio several hours after being admitted Thursday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith of Austin. The city has had 10 cases, five fatalities.

At Waco, Kenneth Burns, Jr., 4 1-2 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Burns of College Station. The child's father is a senior animal husbandry student at Texas A&M and a former Dallas resident.

At Big Spring there was only one current polio case Thursday. But Big Spring had one polio death last week—a child from San Angelo.

Plainview reported two mild cases of polio under treatment at the West Texas polio center there.

Abilene said Donnie D. Woolverton, 32, Odessa, who was admitted Tuesday, is the only acute case of polio there in recent weeks. About 19 persons are patients in polio wards there.

Two cases of polio were under treatment at Wichita Falls. Six cases have been reported there this year and two have been brought in for treatment. All have been children and no fatalities have resulted.

A lone case of polio was reported in Port Aruthr.

A 19-months old McAllen baby was admitted to Grandview hospital at Edinburg as an unconfirmed polio case. The ward count now is 60, following the admission of a five-year-old girl from Mission for therapy.

Mrs. Eleanor Hulme and son, Ronald of San Antonio visited Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Gregory the past week.

Yarn Spinners Sound Off From The Benches On Court House Lawn

Those benches on the court house lawn are a gods send to the Yarn Spinners.

The Yarn Spinners are a choice company of boys who are no longer in circulation. They have passed the golf age too. They sit in the October sun and they tell tall tales, often potent and pungent with the flavor of brawling English.

The other day M. J. Wiggins was sojourning on a bench in the choice company of a few of the yarn spinners. As the published walked by he was hailed.

Said Wiggins: "That story you printed about those fish raining down took me back to Dawson, Georgia in 1878. One day a bunch of us boys were on the way to the mill pond to swim.

A sudden rainstorm swept in and hundreds of yards away from the swimming hole I saw frogs hopping all over the ground. We called them rain frogs. They were rained down that day. I had forgotten until I read about those fish you wrote about."

Well, who doesn't remember white sand and mill ponds, or just plain old red hills in east Texas, when memory keeps us cmopany. Not far from where the pavement ends you will always find a memory lane.

Jodie Simms hoisted his walking cane into the air and measured off 8 inches. "I seen fish that long on the ground after a rain."

Another said: "One thing is certain. When it thunders there is never no storm. The thunder just plain knocks the twist out of the twisters.

Wiggins is a retired barber. He lived here years ago and has returned to familiar scenes and surroundings.

Some of the Yarn Spinners want a Sunday edition of The Midget. We've been figuring on that for a long time. It may be possible. In the meantime, boys, tell us more.

Sheriff Carl Black made a business trip to Austin Tuesday of this week.

W. G. Mraz and family of Houston made a business trip to Cameron recently.

43 STUDENTS REPORT ENJOY VISIT FRIDAY

Students from Curry School with their teacher Mrs. John Summer Batte enjoyed their picnic program in Cameron Friday.

The Curry students numbering 43 may well be given the honors for the largest class to attend a picnic in Cameron during the season of 1949. These picnics are arranged through invitation by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Public Relations Committee of the Chamber of which E. C. Cole is chairman, is conducting the picnic program for the second year. L. G. Smith, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, assists with these programs and arranges a list of names for publication.

The program for the Curry Students was arranged to conform to the usual courtesies extended by the city with a trip to the points of interest to the students and a picnic lunch in the Wilson-Ledbetter Park where the swimming pool is open to visitors.

Picnic grounds in the park have been very helpful and inviting to visiting schools and their teachers and sponsors. The Curry school borders the city and most students are here daily but their enthusiasm indicated they thoroughly appreciated the opportunity to hold their annual picnic here.

Mr. Dodson said he was willing to make any kind of sacrifice to see that the baby gets to the Dallas Hospital.

"I have a lot of confidence in the compassion of Cameron people," said Mr. Dodson, "and I thank the Daily Midget for bringing the plight of the baby to the attention of the people."

CLEANUP—

clined to take precautions where there is no disease. Cameron will be most fortunate and it will be a miracle if the Polio epidemic in Texas does not reach here.

One thing was certain. No progress will be made in removing the sources of infection. About all that can be done is to clean up, haul off the trash and spray. That is about as far as the men who are conducting the drive can go. The deep rooted and fundamental wrongs here can only be corrected if the people want them corrected.

Vast areas o fthe city are without sewers. Open toilets within reach of the sewer lines are to be found in many sections of the city.

Responsibility for this condition rests squarely on the people who vote. It is no longer logical to blame the city council. They do only what the people want done. It is high time the average citizen takes stock of himself to determine how responsible he has been in the past for permitting his city to become what it is.

It is highly important that every available man be on hand Thursday to go out with the trucks and help clean up the spots where conditions are said to be a hazard.

Spray will be sold at 25c per gallon. Take your container to Mack's Oil Company. If you are unable to pay the spray will be given free.

If you have a truck you can spare, please have it on the square by noon Thursday. If you have a spray you can lend either send or bring it to the Chamber of Commerce.

Red Cross Gives $100 To Blue Baby Hospital Fund Here Wednesday

The Red Cross, Milam County Chapter, has given $100 to the Linda Sweaks hospital fund.

Mrs. Agnes Lowe tendered a check for the amount early Wednesday at The Herald and the check has been deposited to the Linda Sweaks account in Citizens National Bank.

This help is greatly appreciated and is very generous, considering the many demands made on the limited funds the Red Cross has to give.

Few people know of the many calls made to the Red Cross. Only recently the chapter paid out over $200 in a spastic case at Thorndale.

For purely local purposes only a relatively small amount of Red Cross Funds remain here. Mrs. Lowe is doing a fine job. She cannot respond to every call for aid funds but does give to emergencies such as the Blue Baby Case.
